Oil Stock Swindles

THE government has awakened to the fact that there are existing laws under which swindlers in oil stocks may be dealt with. Twenty or more promoters of this class have been arrested and arraigned before the United States commissioner in Fort Worth, Tex., on charges of fraudulent use of the mails. Thoughtful persons who have received offers of chances to participate in some of the so-called investment opportunities in the Texas oil fields will incline to the view that the government ought to be able to make out a case. If bombarding widows and other supposedly inexperienced investors with extravagant phrased letters virtually promising almost immediate and fabulously large profits to those who send on the cash for a few shares of cheap oil stocks is not using the mails to defraud, we hardly know what would come under that head. This sort of mail in large quantities has been coming out of Texas and some other states where oil is produced for a long time. It would not be at all difficult to obtain masses of documentary evidence.

The blue sky laws, designed to check the activities of dealers in fraudulent securities, doubtless afford some measure of protection for the investor. But they are far from adequate. They are evaded, apparently rather easily, and probably all this new legislation would not be needed if the laws we have had for a long time were enforced more rigidly. A few stock swindlers actually in jail doubtless would afford the trusting investor more real protection against that type of criminals. As a general proposition, the country needs more enforcement much more than it needs more law.

20 YEARS AGO

(Issue of April 7, 1913.)

At the election at Leetonia yesterday only four Republicans on the whole ticket were elected. Probably the hardest fight of the day was centered on the school board. Two hundred and ten women voted.

The question of issuing village bonds for the purpose of building a new town hall at Washingtonville was defeated at the election yesterday. O. J. Falkenberg, East Main st., father of F. S. & J. Kalkenberg, was taken suddenly ill before noon today and fell on the sidewalk in front of Fawcett's store.

The Buckeye Relief association held its annual meeting Monday night and elected these trustees: Walter Harwood, P. J. Dean, C. S. Early, G. S. Cooper, Walter Baillie, H. Vonneman, James Robbins, E. Zeigler and Frank Harroff.

Al Carlisle was elected mayor in the Democratic landslide at the municipal election yesterday. Carlisle got 1023 votes, while Mayor J. B. Baker, Republican, got 846.

Salem will be represented at the smallpox conference April 9, at Columbus under the direction of the state board of health.

Catherine, eight-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stone, East High st., died early Tuesday morning.

Mrs. A. C. McCarty left last evening for Victor, Ia., where she went to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, William A. Patrick.

Mrs. Mary E. Forehope was called to Pittsburgh this morning by the illness of her sister, Mrs. A. F. Brooks who is well known here.

COURT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McElravy of East Liverpool have brought suit in common pleas court to have the marriage of their son, H. D. McElravy, aged 16, to Irene B. Twyford, which occurred in Chester, W. Va., Feb. 27, annulled.

Mr. and Mrs. McElravy allege that their son, who is a minor, had failed to secure their consent and that he was under the age of consent according to the law of West Virginia. They ask that the marriage be annulled and that the court grant him separation from his wife. The marriage was the result of an elopement planned by the young people and aided by friends.

Sues For $1,500

J. T. Speidel of West township has brought suit in common pleas court to recover the sum of $1,500 which is said to be due on a promissory note executed by Elsie H. Shasteen and secured by a mortgage on a farm of 100 acres in West township. The note was executed in 1918 and is now due and payable. The plaintiff asks that the mortgage be foreclosed, the property sold and funds applied on the payment of the claim.

How to Understand Electrical Terms

When you read on your light bill that so many kilowatt hours of electricity have been consumed; or a salesman in a store tells you that this electric iron may be used on direct or alternating current, the electrical terms involved may naturally puzzle you.

However, while no man can say exactly what electricity is, we all know what it will accomplish, and there are certain units for measuring it and certain terms applied to its operation that every current consumer should understand.

We have a really fascinating little booklet prepared by the Society for Electrical Development, Inc., which defines—with almost primer like simplicity—these electrical terms. We'd like for you to have one of these booklets. They're interesting reading.

Buddhism Combating Christianity, He Says

New York, April 7.—Buddhism is combating Christianity with its own weapons in China, according to Dr. Theodore Bliss, a medical missionary in the Orient who has come to the United States on leave of absence in connection with his work at the Episcopal Church General Hospital at Wuchang.

"The inroads which Christianity has been making among the Chinese," says Dr. Bliss, "have stirred the priests of Buddha to the inauguration of an evangelistic movement which is one of the marked manifestations of the awakened China. In large measure the Buddhists led by men who have graduated from American or European universities, are adapting to their own use the methods which have resulted in winning to the Christian religion thousands of converts among the Chinese. They have their evangelists who are going about the provinces preaching the doctrines of Buddha, they are establishing mission stations modeled after those maintained by the Christian churches, they are opening schools, and latterly, they have built at Hankow directly across the Yangtze river from our hospital at Wuchang, a modern hospital with 150 beds, steam heated, with up to date water supply, fully equipped laboratory, and all the other appurtenances of a first class modern medical institution. Their aim, frankly, is to illustrate to the natives that Buddhism, at least in material things is able to supply them with everything that Christianity has carried to their doors."

The notable thing in connection with this Buddhist effort to combat the spread of Christianity is the fact, according to Dr. Bliss that in China there are no restrictions with regard to the practice of medicine. Anybody in China is privileged to declare himself a physician, hang out a sign and begin treating anyone who wishes to assume the risk. Under these circumstances, the medical missionaries whom the Christian churches have been sending to China, heretofore have had a distinct advantage over most of the native practitioners, and the Christian movement has consequently been greatly advanced. Hence the new movement of the Buddhists to call to the service of Buddha all of the up to date resources of western civilization.

Dr. Bliss points out significantly the fact that the new Buddhist hospital at Hankow has two subsidiary wings, one of which is a Buddhist temple and the other of which is a school in which those attending are instructed in the modern elementary branches plus their religion of Gautama Buddha; and there is this further interesting feature in connection with the institution, that while modern methods of medicine and surgery are in vogue for those who desire treatment according to western standards, it is also possible for those who desire to be treated by incantations and all the other age-old methods of China.

"The point that I want to stress," says Dr. Bliss, "that with the adoption of these modern methods by the Buddhists the obligation is laid upon the Christian churches not to fall behind in the race which has been started. Thus, the Church General Hospital at Wuchang which was started 50 years ago and is one of the first missionary hospitals established by the Episcopal church in China has neither modern water supply nor heating plant, while the Buddhist hospital has both equipped with all the latest modern appliances. Engineers from the Rockefeller Institute at Peking recently prepared plans for a water and heating plant at the Church General hospital and Dr. Bliss, who is a Cornell man, 1904, and whose headquarters are at 261 Fourth ave. New York city, is here to find out what the church folk are going to do about it.

1 The Oakland Six-44 is an outstanding success! Every day, more and more buyers are convincing themselves that no other automobile offers an equal dollar-for-dollar value! In little more than a year, the demand has taxed the production facilities of the Oakland factory!

2 Oakland is so confident of the superiority of its engine that it gives a written 15,000 mile guarantee against excess oil in the combustion chamber—proof of the superiority of Oakland's cylinder, piston and ring construction. Only Oakland offers such a guarantee.

3 Only Oakland gives you a definite gauge with which to estimate the actual mileage an Oakland will deliver—free from expense. Consider Oakland's figures (elsewhere in this advertisement) in the light of your own motoring experience, and you'll appreciate how remarkable they are!

4 In Cleveland, the average upkeep on Six-44's last year was only $8.06 per car. Other cities report similarly low averages.

Lisbon Notes
Factories Blamed
For Killing Of Fish

Enmor Roller, proprietor of the Roller mills on Wellsville rd., states that twice during the past three months he has had to remove the dead fish from the screen that protects his turbine water wheel from driftwood and other debris in the water of Beaver creek. The fish were packed in so tightly that they stopped the flow of water. Local members of the fish and game association are about to take the matter up with the county health department and are convinced that the dead fish show that the water is contaminated with acids and is killing the fish. Leontina manufacturers are blamed with dumping acid laden water in the headwaters of the creek and causing the contamination of the water. Frequent complaints have been made and the association are now determined that some steps shall be taken to prevent further contamination and the killing off of the fish. Beaver creek was stocked with fish last year and it is certain now that most of the new stock have been killed off by the contamination of the water.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Chicago—Dr. G. W. Crile of Cleveland and his nephew, Dennis W. Crile, Chicago, have found a way to prevent death, they say, by injecting adrenalin into the heart from eight to ten minutes after life is pronounced extinct. The treatment will also be used on patients under anesthetics during operations.

Youngstown—A little pet dog in the home of Barney Wolff prevented thieves from plundering the house early this week. The dog raised so much confusion that his master arrived on the scene as the last of the burglars were seen disappearing from a kitchen window.

Paris—Among the strikes which are concerning French people are those of the hospital attendants, undertakers, dentists assistants and professional pallbearers. They claim that their wages have not advanced with the cost of living.

East Youngstown—There is a total of just 17 cents in the East Youngstown safety fund. Whether the town will have police protection, water, light and power are the serious questions being asked now, as there are back bills of $20,000 in addition to police officers' back pay.

Last Photograph Of Sarah Bernhart

Sarah Bernhart &amp; Leon Abrams

Here is the last photograph ever made of "Divine Sarah" Bernhart. She is shown here in her Paris studio, talking with Leon Abrams, her motion picture director, between the scenes of the picture she was making at the time of her death. It was her one hope to live long enough to finish this picture, and her indomitable spirit carried her far with the production before she gave way to death. Mme. Bernhart is shown wearing smoked glasses to protect her eyes from the glare of the powerful studio rays. She died a very few days after this picture was made.

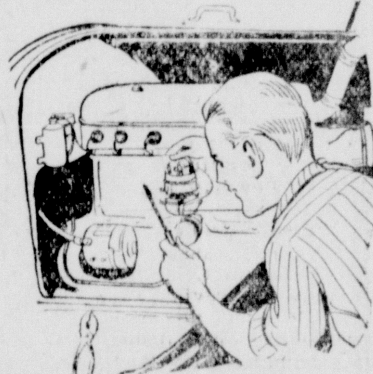

WILL INVESTIGATE
ALL STOCK SALES

On Monday night of next week Ezra Arnstead, state organizer of the investigating bureau, will hold a meeting at City hall, Lisbon, for the purpose of organizing a bureau of this sort for this county.

The bureau is composed of bankers, secretaries of building and loan companies and farm bureau heads. Their work is to investigate all financial schemes that are being pushed in their district. Members of the investigating bureau will appraise any new financial schemes, ascertaining their standing and the standing of the promoters before they will give it their approval. In this way thousands of dollars will be saved to investors, who might be persuaded by some glib tongued salesman to invest in securities of doubtful value.

Mr. Arnstead will remain in this county for several days until he has completed the organization and has it

SECRETARY OF WAR RAPS COMMUNISM IN BITTER ATTACK

Weeks Says Statements Of War Prevention Council False.

Washington, April 7.—In a general attack on Communism and pacifism in the United States, Secretary of War Weeks has branded certain statements of the National Council for the Prevention of War as a "carefully planned effort to deceive," and warned Americans not to support movements lest they align themselves with the "enemies of the republic."

Calling attention to the "wide-spread circulation" recently given "incorrect and misleading statistics" in the costs of military defense and their relation to the total annual budget, the secretary declared it had now become necessary to call public attention to the facts.

Those responsible for these statements, he said, "include those forces in America who are preaching revolution and the establishment of a communistic government, and also those who seem to believe that any army or navy is unnecessary."

"Unfortunately," Weeks continued, "these elements, who are a very small minority of our people, are supported by considerable bodies of patriotic citizens, men and women who, lacking knowledge and information of the true situation and apparently unwilling to be governed by the experiences of the past, are lending their services to reduce if not destroy the military safeguards of the nation."

Raps Statement

Typical of the material used in this "dangerous campaign," Weeks said, is the following statement which appeared in a recent bulletin of an organization calling itself the National Council for the Prevention of War, which has its headquarters in Washington.

"The officially prepared chart enclosed shows that we are allowing one-fifth of our budget for 1921 for the army and navy. More than 55 per cent of that budget will go for past and future wars."

This chart, which the council puts forward as official, Weeks said, in reality was prepared by the organization's own "bureau of efficiency" from the budget report submitted to congress by President Harding.

The truth is, Weeks declared, that the federal budget report shows under the heading of "military functions" not 55 per cent, but 32.7 per cent, of which only 13.5 per cent will be expended on national defense, the remaining 19.2 per cent being required for military pensions, retirement pay, life insurance, etc.

FINEFROCK BILL GOES TO DONAHEY

"Ball And Chain" Measure Passes Both Branches Of Legislature.

Columbus, April 7.—Women violators of the Ohio laws may be committed to the penitentiary for women at Marysville by justices of the peace without a trial by jury, and men convicted of misdemeanors, unable to pay their fines, will be compelled to join the "ball and chain" gang and work on the roads under guard until their fines have been worked out, if Gov. Donahey allows the Finefrock bill, which has passed the senate to become a law.

This bill, proposed by the Anti-Saloon League as a prohibition enforcement measure, was introduced early in the session by Rep. Finefrock of Stark county. It was opposed by many dry legislators because they felt it was too drastic but J. A. White, chief of the Anti-Saloon League, insisted upon its passage and scored a 23 to 11 victory in the senate. It passed the house earlier in the session by a large majority.

It now is up to Gov. Donahey to pass upon the measure.

After the bill had passed in the senate Sen. Rowe of Cuyahoga county facetiously moved to amend the title to the bill and label it "A bill to revive the Spanish inquisition, to promote Bolshevism, to penalize poverty and to repeal the bill of rights of the national constitution."

SALEM SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Scouting was given a magnificent reception by the Department of Superintendence of the N. E. A. at its 1929 convention in Cleveland. Scouts of the Detroit public schools, spoke to the convention on "How the Scouts Help the Boy Scouts," saying the use of school buildings, after hours is encouraged in Detroit.

"Five years ago the Detroit board of education approved the Boy Scout movement by granting the scouts permission to use school buildings, with heat, light and janitor service provided."

"At present, out of 169 regularly organized Scout troops in Detroit, 112 are weekly use of school buildings."

The Detroit plan involves the use of schools for troops which may be organized by other institutions than schools.

Salem troops being well provided for quarters have not found it necessary to ask for the use of school buildings yet, though a very cordial spirit of co-operation exists between the school officials and the scout organization here, evidenced on frequent occasions all during the history of local scouting.

A tour of inspection of troops was made by the Scout Commissioner during the last two weeks. Report shows most of the troops in a flourishing condition; attendance good, interest keen and progress evident in nearly every camp.

Announcement was made to troops of activities planned and being worked out by the Scout council for the spring and summer. National Foray week county rally and the annual camp are possibly of greatest importance.

An event of national interest to scouting is the visit to America this month of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, a man who has been largely responsible for scouting in America.

Troop One

Last week was our eighth anniversary. We started the new year with a full troop of snappy fellows who are taking a real interest in scouting. Troop 1 has had eight prosperous years of scouting with never less than three patrols enrolled at any time. Troop 1 went to the Rotary hut Saturday for an overnight hike. Some of the new scouts will have a merry time trying to cook successfully and sleep comfortably.

Troop Four

"Gee, the closer they get, the more gas they give her" he grumbled as car after car, with big empty back seats, sped past, unheeding his signaled request for a "lift." He was a picturesque specimen of "Young America" as he stopped on Blackburn hill and faced the red disk of the rising sun.

His clothing was badly wrinkled, his hands far from immaculate. All too plainly the tangled hair and smoky rings about his eyes denied a morning's acquaintance with soap and towel. His blanket roll, Grand Army style, hung limply over one shoulder—it weighed twice as much as it felt the night before when he plowed blithely through the mud beyond Doc Atkinson's cinder road.

He wobbled languidly from side to side, it was more difficult to keep the night than when the wind and swirline snow of the night before had tried time and again to blow him into the puddles beside his path. His feet were heavier than when, 10 hours before, the roots and stumps and fallen limbs had tried to trip him.

He was tired, and he was thinking—thinking hard of these things they call play. He was thinking of the smoke-filled room, of the parched throats and locked-up pump. He was thinking of the bunk, mostly bunk, he decided, but next time he would

He had been mighty uncomfortable, he was very tired. "Gee, I wonder how soon we can go again," he queried as his crowd broke up in front of the postoffice. ## How To Double Your Life

A lifetime should not be measured by hours lived, but by deeds done. To some a lifetime means the period in which they can render the greatest possible service to mankind. To others it is the period when they can achieve the greatest possible success and fame. To wives and mothers it is often the measure of love and happiness with which they can endow their families and direct their future. Whatever a lifetime means to you, remember that TIME and DISTANCE are the chief obstacles to achieving your heart's desire. By halving their opposition you double your life and double your chief capital—TIME—because you double the possible achievements and earning power of your lifetime.

for Economical Transportation

—is the world's great conservator and developer of human energy, because it is the most economical form of individual transportation. It transports you here and there quickly and there quickly and comfortably, saving mind and body for the work to be done. It broadens your mental and material horizon, makes you a force over an area you could not possibly cover except by automobile. It saves you money by saving valuable time. It also affords the advantage and pleasure of transporting your family or fellow-workers and your luggage or tools at the same time, making you independent of tracks, timetables, seasons and even main highways. If you lack an automobile, you are behind the march of progress. If you lack a Chevrolet, you are behind the evolution of economical transportation.

COULD HARDLY DO HER WORK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Eat, Sleep and Feel Better Every Day

Chicago, Ill.—"I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time, and dizzy, and could not sleep and had no appetite. I tried different medicines for years, but they did not help me. Then I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for other women and gave it a trial. I began to eat better and could sleep, and consider it a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to my friends and will never be without it."

—Mrs. M. OHLSEN, 3649 S. Marshallfield Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

It is such letters as these that testify to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This woman speaks from the fullness of her heart. She describes as correctly as she can her condition, first the symptoms that bothered her the most, and later the disappearance of those symptoms. It is a sincere expression of gratitude.

For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

URGES REDEMPTION OF SAVINGS STAMPS

Postmaster George Mounts declared today that, scattered about this county, there are many thousands of dollars worth of 1918 War Savings Stamps which have not as yet been presented for redemption, although they matured on Jan. 1, last, and could have been cashed or exchanged for Treasury Savings Certificates at any time since that date.

In urging that these stamps be brought in for redemption or exchange into Treasury Savings Certificates, the postmaster points out that three months interest on the face value of the stamps has already been lost, and he suggests that all persons who bought 1918 War Savings Stamps make a careful search in an effort to locate any of these unredeemed stamps.

The 1918 stamps are green in color and bear the likeness of George Washington. They have a cash value of $5 each, which amount includes the accumulated interest from 1918.

The local postoffice will redeem the 1918 War Savings Stamps for cash or exchange them for Treasury Savings Certificates. The certificates are issued in denominations of $1,000, $100, $25 and $5. They are free of all local and state taxes.

Mr. Glasgow is fully acquainted with the work of the farm bureau, and his meeting Friday night was in the nature of an explanation of the work of the bureau.

Palestine Agents Arrest Bootleggers

RICKARD BESOUGHT BY FIGHTERS FOR PLACE ON PROGRAM

They All Want To Box For Charity's Sake, Plus Percentage.

New York, April 7.—Charley being ordinarily understood as a cause in which one gives something for nothing, it is quite singular that so many members of the box fighting profession have expressed a desire to appear on Tex Rickard's program of May 12 for the benefit of the local milk fund. Seemingly, the fight situation hereabouts is at a standstill because managers and boxers have lost all interest in everything beyond taking a hand in this worthy enterprise.

Of a certainty, the cut-in on the tremendous receipts promised has virtually no influence on this common desire. They merely wish to do their bit just as the makers of war munitions did theirs.

One of these purely disinterested individuals is Jack Renault, managed by Leo Flynn. Renault has been offered a certain percentage to box Tom Gibbons here May 3 at the best of William Muldoon. He would have none of it. However, as a compromise, Renault, through Flynn, has let it be known that he will consent to accept the same percentage at the milk fund bouts.

Fulton There Too

A parallel case is that of Frederick Flat-on-his-back Fulton, managed by Jimmy Johnston, who can pick them off with a pop gun at 500 yards. Rickard is somewhat aghast to learn that Floyd Johnson, co-star of his big charity show, is to take on Frederick April 16. The promoter has no reason to fear that Fulton will ruin a perfectly good headliner but he recognizes the fact that Johnson is taking a needless chance in more ways than one. An injured hand would leave Rickard without an opponent for Willard in the star bout.

He, therefore, has besought Fulton, and Johnson to agree to a latter date. He found them acquiescent. They would not consider for a minute interfering with Rickard's plans for the charity show. In fact, they would agree to anything Rickard suggested, provided he gave Fulton a "spot" on the milk fund program.

Enter Luis Firpo

It is gratifying to note that the promoter has failed to accept this county position to date. He is up to his ears in expenses now, what with Villard and Johnson contracted to remove $50,000 from the premises on the day of the fight and that other public spirited gentlemen, Luis Angel Firpo, down on the books for a $15,000 cut.

In these instances, the men named will bring at the gate treble the amount they receive and therefore, are worthy of the expenditure. Fulton and Renault would add no dollars to the milk fund. They would merely contrive to take some away.

THIRTY SHOT SAYS PETROGRAD REPORT

Russian Army Officers Face
Firing Squad On Treason Charge.

London, April 7.—Thirty Russian army officers were reported to have been shot at Petrograd after being found guilty of treason against the soviet.

Six hundred and fifty persons were said to have been arrested in various parts of Russia, some charged with conspiring against the Moscow government; others with complicity in a plot to poison soviet officials.

Some of the prisoners already have been deported to Siberia.

Hostages are reported to have been seized who will be liable to execution in the event of Lenin's death. While no details were given, it is presumed that these hostages were taken from the faction which is suspected of plotting trouble if Lenin dies.

A continuous stream of reports of all kinds are being received here regarding Russian conditions. One was that Lenin was improving; another was that he had died some time ago and his death was being kept secret.

The report that Leon Trotsky's illness is due to a poison plot persists. A dispatch from Stockholm, quoting the newspaper Tidningen, said that George Tchiterin, commissar for foreign affairs, has fallen ill and that his sickness is developing into a dangerous malady. According to this dispatch, Litvinoff has succeeded Tchiterin as head of the foreign office.

Anti-Semitic rioting has broken out in Ukraine, following the violent disorders when protests were made against the forthcoming trial of Metropolitan Tikhon of the Russian Orthodox church. The religiously inclined peasants are insisting that Rev. Tikhon be liberated and to enforce this request they attacked red troops.
